1. Introduction

The Applicant in his motion dated the 5th day of January, 2004 moves the Trial Chamber or Designated Judge for an Order directing the Registrar and or the Deputy Registrar respectively to enter into legal service contract with the Applicant's duly appointed provisional Counsel, Mr. Terrence Michael Terry.

2. BACKGROUND

2.1. The 1st Respondent was appointed Acting Principal Defender ("A/Principal Defender") 7 July 2003. As A/Principal Defender he is mandated to fully exercise the authority of the Principal Defender as referred to in Rule 45 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence of the Special Court of Sierra Leone ("the Rules"). The 1st Respondent was appointed pending recruitment of a Principal Defender. On assumption of office, the A/Principal Defender frequently liaised with Defence Counsel for the Applicant. Counsel has never questioned the A/ Principal Defender's authority or mandate prior to the letter of 12 December 2003.

2.2. On 9th June 2003 and 16th September 2003 Counsel for the Applicant filed two motions citing ill-health as his reasons for not filing legal papers on time. This state of affairs warranted a request by the Acting Principal Defender for Counsel for the Applicant to undergo medical examination with a view to satisfying the A/Principal Defender that Counsel is fit and available to defend the Applicant until the completion of his trial.

2.3. The 1st Respondent further informed Counsel for the Applicant that his representation of both the Applicant and another accused before the Special Court, Charles Ghankay Taylor has a potential of placing Counsel in a situation of conflict of interest. In a letter dated 10 November 2003, a copy of which is annexed, the A/Principal Defender requested Counsel to comply with the requirements of Article 14 (C) of the Directive should Counsel intend on continuing his representation of two accused before the Special Court. The various correspondences exchanged between the A/ Principal Defender and Counsel for the Applicant culminated in the correspondence of 12 December 2003 withdrawing the provisional assignment of Counsel. A copy of this letter is annexed.

2.4. Role Of The Defence Office And Principal Defender

The mandate of the Defence Office is set out in Rule 45 of the Rules. Firstly, in accordance with Rule 45(B)(i), Duty Counsel in the Defence Office provide initial advice and assistance to suspects and accused. Secondly, in accordance with Rule 45(C), the Defence Office assigns defence counsel to those suspect or accused who request that counsel be assigned to them and who do not have the means to pay for their own counsel. Thirdly, the Defence Office renders a variety of assistance to appointed and assigned counsel, including administrative assistance, vetting of investigators, substantive legal research and aid in drafting motions and applications. The Defence Office identifies legal issues that need to be raised before the Judges of the Special Court, researches those issues and prepares briefs to provide to Defence Counsel. Fourthly, the Defence Office has an outreach role in educating Sierra Leoneans about the Defence, the presumption of innocence, the burden and standards of proof and the rights of the accused. The work of the Defence Office is managed by a Principal Defender who engages in the legal, administrative, educational, standard-setting and brainstorming activities of Duty Counsel and Defence Counsel.

2.5. Article 17 Of The Statute Of The Special Court Of Sierra Leone

Article 17 requires that all accused be entitled to adequate and effective representation. This requires that assigned Counsel be fit and available at all times to provide adequate representation for the Applicant until the completion of the latter's trial. The onus is on Counsel to satisfy the A/ Principal Defender that he or she is fit and able to fully represent the accused for the duration of the trial.

2.6. The Directive On Assignment Of Counsel

A certified copy of the Directive was signed by the Registrar on 1 October 2003, was served on Counsel for the Applicant on 2 October 2003 and entered into effect on 3 October 2003. Article 14 (C) details the procedure to be followed where Counsel seeks to represent more than one accused in the Special Court. Firstly, both accused persons must receive independent legal advice. Secondly, both accused persons must elect to waive their right to be represented by separate Counsel. Counsel should then apply through the Principal Defender to the appropriate Judge of the Trial Chamber, for a decision to be reached.

2.7. The Legal Service Contract

The legal service contract ("the agreement") provides for assignment of Counsel to provide legal representation during the trial of the accused. The agreement takes effect on the signing of the contract and expires on completion of the trial of the accused. The agreement may be terminated by either party before the expiry of the agreement in accordance with the provision of the Rules and the Directive. From the date of the agreement contracting Counsel shall submit stage plans to be approved by the Defence Office of the Special Court of Sierra Leone. Expenses incurred by the contracting Counsel in the performance of their contact shall be reimbursed if approved in the case plan or stage plans and upon submission of all the relevant documentation to the Defence Office. Except for an appeal decision in accordance with Article 19 of the Directive any dispute between the Defence Office and the contracting Counsel arising out of the interpretation or application of this agreement which is not settled negotiation shall be subject to the procedure contained in Article 22 of the Directive.

3. APPLICANT'S ARGUMENT

The Applicant submits the following arguments in support of his application.

3.1. Factual Basis For The Applicant's Motion

The Applicant submitted that the factual basis for the motion arose from the A/Principal Defender's refusal to enter into a legal service contract with Counsel for the Applicant.

The Applicant further submits that the reasons for this refusal are as follows:-

3.1.1. That Counsel for the Applicant must first undergo a medical examination; and

3.1.2. That Counsel for the Applicant is presently representing Mr. Charles Ghankay Taylor and that Article 14 (C) of the Directive precludes Counsel from representing more than one accused.

3.2. Legal Basis For The Applicant's Motion

In support of his application, the Applicant invokes Article 17 of the Statute, Rule 72 (B) (iv) of the Rules, Article 12 (a) of the Directive and the Trial Chamber's inherent jurisdiction to hear the application. Counsel for the Applicant further relies on Articles, 2 (A) and (B), 3, 4, 5, 11 (A) and (B) , 12 (A) and (B), 14, 17 (A) and 21 of the Directive in further support of his application.

Counsel for the Applicant submitted that Article 1(A) of the Directive refers to the head of the Defence Office as the "Principal Defender" and that the present the "Acting Principal Defender", the 1st Respondent, cannot perform the functions of the Principal Defender contemplated by Article 1 (A) of the Directive. Counsel for the Applicant further argued that the two reasons canvassed by the A/ Principal Defender for his withdrawal are without merit for the following reasons:

- 3.2.1. That the A/ Principal Defender is not capable of making a decision as to Counsel for the Applicant's state of health as he is not a medical doctor.
- 3.2.2. That Counsel for the Applicant represents another accused, Mr. Charles Ghankay Taylor suo moto does not amount to a conflict of interest as Counsel's instructions in the latter are limited only to raising procedural questions and do not pertain to the merits of the latter's case.
- 3.2.3. That the purported exercise of powers by the A/ Principal Defender under the provisions of Articles 13 (A) and 14 (C) of the Directive is discriminatory on the ground that no other lead or co-Counsel have been subjected to any medical examination before entering into any legal service contract.

Counsel for the Applicant subsequently invited the Trial Chamber to invoke its inherent jurisdiction with a view to granting the various orders sought by the Applicant in his motion.

4. RESPONDENTS ARGUMENTS

4.1. The Trial Chamber's lack jurisdiction to hear the applicant's motion

The Applicant's complaint is not supported by any of the rules under which the application is purportedly made. The 1st Respondent submits that the motion cannot be heard by the Trial Chamber under Rule 72 (B) (iv) of the Rules nor by Article 17 of the Statute or Article 12 (A) of the Directive for the following reasons:-

Rule 72 provides that any preliminary motions must be filed within 21 days following disclosure by the Prosecutor to the Defence of all relevant material. On 17 April 2003 the Prosecutor disclosed all material to the Registrar in the cases of Kallon, Sesay and Brima pursuant to Rule 66(A)(i). Accordingly all preliminary motions should have been filed by 8 May 2003.

The 1st Respondent submits that the issue raised by the Applicant before the Trial Chamber does not turn on "denial of request for assignment of Counsel" but rather on Counsel complying with the requirements of availability of Counsel and his fitness to conduct the proper defence of the Accused pursuant to Rule 45 (C) of the Rules. The 1st Respondent further submits that the Order for legal assistance granted by this Court to the Applicant supports the view that the applicant has not been refused legal assistance. The order for legal assistance granted by the Court is clearly in force and has not been set aside for any reason.

It is therefore submitted that since there is no refusal of assignment of Counsel to the indigent Applicant, Rule 72(B)(iv) cannot and should not be invoked and is not applicable in the instant case. Counsel for the Applicant has failed to support his application with any evidence to show that the Applicant has not been assigned Counsel. The inherent jurisdiction of the Trial Chamber cannot be invoked in the instant case as Counsel has not formulated a complaint supported by the Statute, the Rules and the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel. Assuming without conceding that the Trial Chamber holds that it has jurisdiction to entertain the said application, the 1st Respondent submits that the motion be dismissed in its entirety for the following reasons:

4.2. The authority of the A/Principal Defender

The Applicant also submitted that the A/ Principal Defender is not a creature envisaged under Article 1(A) of the Directive as the said article refers to the Principal Defender and not the A/ Principal Defender.

This argument is not supported by any legal authority to show that the 1st Respondent's status as A/ Principal Defender deprives him of authority under the Directive. Assuming without conceding that the argument of the Applicant stands in this regard, there is abundant evidence on the face of the papers exhibited by the Applicant in his affidavit that he has had several course of dealings with the A/ Principal Defender. On those occasions the Applicant chose to recognise the office and authority of the A/ Principal Defender. The Applicant has however chosen not to recognise the authority of the A/ Principal Defender on this occasion because he has been asked to comply with procedural requirements as envisaged by Rule 45 (C) of the Rules.

4.3. Counsel for the Applicant is representing more than one accused

The 1st Respondent submits that Counsel for the applicant is on record representing both the Applicant and another accused, Mr. Charles Ghankay Taylor in the Special Court for Sierra Leone. Counsel for the Applicant argued in the motion that no conflict of interest arises by his representation of two accused in the same tribunal referred to above on the ground that his representation of the latter is limited only to procedural issues.

The 1st Respondent submits that the provisions of Article 14 (C) on the Directive are instructive on this point. They explicate the procedure to be followed where Counsel seeks to represent more than one accused in the Special Court. Firstly, Article 14 (C) provides that both accused persons should receive independent legal advice and should waive their right to be represented by separate Counsel. Secondly, it requires an application from such Counsel to be made through the Principal Defender to the Presiding Judge of the appropriate Chamber. No evidence of has been adduced by Counsel for the Applicant to suggest that either of these requirements have been met. The jurisprudence of the Special Court is instructive where representation is only limited to procedural matters. However, Art. 14 (C) does not with respect limit such representation to procedural matters.

In the Prosecutor vs. Morris Kallon, in a decision delivered 17 July 2003 the Defence Office's request to be made amicus curia on jurisdictional arguments, which are procedural matters, was rejected by the Trial Chamber on the ground that a possible conflict of interest among other things would arise. Counsel for the Applicant's argument that his involvement in the Taylor case is merely procedural has no legal footing or grounds and is unsupported by the jurisprudence of the Trial Chamber of the Special Court for Sierra Leone.

The 1st Respondent submits that had Counsel for the Applicant followed the procedure spelt out in Art. 14 (C) of the Directive, the possibility of conflict of interest could have been minimised. The procedures spelt out in Art. 14 (C) are designed ultimately to minimise the possibility of conflict of interest.

The 1st Respondent further submits that the indictments of both the applicant and Charles Ghankay Taylor state an allegation of a joint criminal enterprise. The Trial Chamber's attention is drawn particularly to paragraphs 21.27 of the indictment filed by the Prosecutor against Charles Ghankay Taylor. Furthermore, it is submitted that the possibility of a joint trial is imminent as the Prosecution had filed a motion to jointly try the RUF/AFRC. Accordingly, the 1st Respondent submits that the possibility of conflict of interest becomes all the more conspicuous. The Trial Chamber is invited to closely consider these issues and determine whether or not the possibility of conflict interest has arisen or that there is a reasonable possibility that such a conflict will arise.

4.4. Applicant's Right to Counsel of his or her choosing

The Rules do not require that an accused shall have an unfettered right to a Counsel of his choosing.<sup>1</sup> Whilst jurisprudence does allow that usual procedure gives the accused the right to Counsel of his or her choice, such a right may be denied if there are relevant and sufficient grounds for maintaining that it was necessary in the interests of justice.

(Ntakirutimana ICTR-96-10-T and ICTR-96-17-T 11 June 1997). This case was confirmed at the ICTY Dusko Knezevic IT-95-8/1-PT<sup>2</sup> by the Trial Chamber on 6 September 2002 it has been confirmed that “the right to a Counsel of the accused’s own choosing is not without limits”

The 1st Respondent submits that the Applicant’s request for assignment of Counsel has been respected and honoured. The applicant has not shown any infringement of the principle of assignment of Counsel. Furthermore, the Rules do not require that an accused person shall have an unfettered right to a Counsel of his choosing. The Defence Office exceeded these requirements in accommodating that the Applicant’s choice in the instant case is respected.

In the Prosecutor v Nyiramasuhuko and Ntahobali ICTR-97-21-T<sup>3</sup> though the Trial Chamber directed the Registry to withdraw the assignment of Counsel on the request of the accused the point was made that the Registry was responsible for the assignment of Counsel. The Trial Chamber further instructed the Registry to provide a list from which the accused should choose new counsel. The significance of this decision is that the process of legal aid enjoins the Registry, or the Principal Defender as the case may be, to assign counsel, not necessarily a counsel of the accused’s choice. In the Prosecutor v Delalic et al.<sup>4</sup> the Trial Chamber of the ICTY refused the written request of the Accused to

<sup>1</sup> This is supported by jurisprudence from the ICTR where in Ntakirutimana ICTR 96-10-T and ICTR -96-17-T, in a decision of 11 June 1997 the Trial Chamber I of the ICTR declared that Article 20(4) of the Statute of the ICTR cannot be construed as giving the indigent accused the absolute right to be assigned the legal representation of his or her choice, this right is not “can be considered per se to be absolute”. The Human Rights Committee of the ICCPR, held that Article 14 of the ICCPR did not to grant an accused the right to choose Defence Counsel assigned to him without payment by him.(This was also confirmed in Litte v Jamaica [Communication No. 330/1988 UN Doc CCPR/C/50/D/330/1988 (1994)] and Osbourne Wright and Eric Harvey v Jamaica [Communication No. 459/1991, UN Doc. CCPR/C/55/D/459/1991 (1995)]

<sup>2</sup> Dusko Knezevic IT-95-8/1-PT Decision on the Accused’s Request for Review of Registrar’s Decision as to Assignment of Counsel, 6 September 2002.

<sup>3</sup> Prosecutor v Nyiramasuhuko and Ntahobali ICTR-97-21-T, Decision on Ntahobali’s Motion for Withdrawal of Counsel, 22 June 2001.

<sup>4</sup> Prosecutor v Delalic et al IT-96-21T Order on the Request by the Accused, Esad Landzo, for withdrawal of Lead Counsel, 21 April 1997.

change Counsel. However, the Trial Chamber held that the right to Counsel of Accused's choice is not without qualification in situations where the Accused is indigent and is unable to fund his legal representation; and that a genuine conflict of interest will constitute a good cause for withdrawal of counsel.

4.5. The requirement of a medical examination being discriminatory

The 1st Respondent submits that Counsel for the Applicant had filed two motions dated the 9th June and 16th September 2003 seeking extensions of time to comply with his legal obligations to wit: filing papers on behalf of his client. The reasons canvassed in the referred motions are ill-health.

Subsequently, the A/ Principal Defender requested Counsel undergo medical examination such that the requirements of Rule 45(C) of the Rules could be ensured. By this request, the A/ Principal Defender is upholding the rights of the accused to adequate representation. Furthermore, Article 13(D) of the Directive allows that "The Principal Defender may verify Counsel's qualification for the List of Qualified Counsel by any means", such means may be the undergoing of a medical examination.

The subsequent issue for determination is whether it was discriminatory for Counsel for the Applicant to be requested to undergo such examination. The A/ Principal Defender relied on by Rule 45 (C) of the Rules, the Order for legal assistance and the onus placed on the A/Principal Defender under Article 13 of the Directive regarding the list of Counsel to justify his request. Rule 45 of the Rules provides that the exercise of discretion is within the administrative powers conferred on an A/ Principal Defender. This is supported by Articles 13-16 of the Directive which do not set out procedures in their entirety but rather allow for the A/Principal Defender to use her or her discretion.

The 1st Respondent submits that where a reasonable doubt exists as to the fitness and availability of Counsel to conduct an accused's defence in trials of this magnitude, the A/ Principal Defender is obliged to make further enquiries regarding the fitness of Counsel. Accordingly, the 1st Respondent submits that the request for Counsel to comply with procedural requirements to wit: medical examination, does not tantamount to discrimination. The 1st Respondent submits that the suggestion by Counsel for the Applicant that no other Counsel had been subjected to medical examination is without merit as no other Counsel have, to date, raised the issue of their health as justification for extensions of time.

4.6. Rule 16(C) of the Directive

Counsel for the Applicant erred in submitting that article 16 (C) of the Directive is non-existent and that the A/ Principal Defender purportedly exercised authority under a non-existent rule. The 1st Respondent submits that Art. 16 (C) may be found on page 8 under Part III of the said Directive, under the heading Payment of Counsel. It behoves Counsel for the Applicant as a prudent lawyer to have consulted with the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel served on his chambers on the 2 October 2003 before making unwarranted pronouncements regarding the non-existence of Art. 16 (C).

4.7. Applicant's Affidavit annexed to the Applicant's Motion

It is interesting to observe that the Applicant's affidavit is confusing in some respect and clear in others. The Trial Chamber's attention is drawn to paragraph 11 of the Applicant's Affidavit. It remains confusing whether the Application is brought by Counsel or the Applicant.

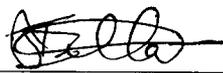

5. ORAL HEARING

Consistent with the jurisprudence of the Trial Chamber, the 1st Respondent submits that the issues raised by the Applicant's motion and the response herein can be resolved by written decision.

CONCLUSION:-

The 1st Respondent submits that for the reasons canvassed in the foregoing paragraphs, the applicant's motion should be dismissed in its entirety.

Subject: Legal Service Contract

Dear Mr. Terry,

I hereby acknowledge having received, on 4 November 2003, the document you submitted, as a Case Plan, in the context of our discussions towards the signing of a Legal Service Contract to provide for the legal representation of Mr. Brima before the Special Court for Sierra Leone.

This follows on from the Defence Office sending you, on 3 October 2003, the documents contained in the Contracting Package and a message inviting you to prepare a Case Plan and, at least, the initial Stage Plan for the case. On 2 October 2003, you were also served with the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel (the Directive), as adopted by the Registrar on 1 October 2003.

As a preliminary remark, I would like to point out that, while I have received a Case Plan, I have yet to receive your Stage Plan for the period up to 30 September 2003.

Turning to the Case Plan you have submitted, I note that you have omitted to include certain information requested in the template that was provided to you and, more importantly, have yet to include the anticipated cost for travel and DLA/DSA. Both the Directive and the Contract Specification specify that these expenses are to be included in both the Case Plan and Stage Plans, in addition to legal fees. I will therefore need those details before I can accept your Case Plan as currently presented.

On a more fundamental note, I would like to draw your attention to the provisions of the Directive and of the Contract Specification that require the Principal Defender to ascertain a number of issues before a Legal Service Contract is signed and Counsel is assigned, as opposed to provisionally assigned, to represent an indigent accused.

In relation to article 13 (A) of the Directive, the Principal Defender has to determine that Counsel is and remains available to represent an accused. Whilst at the time of your provisional assignment this matter was dealt with through your written engagement of availability, it has now been put into question by the fact that you have raised, as an issue for a motion you earlier submitted (Application for Extension of time – Habeas Corpus) and subsequent Decision of the Trial Chamber, that health concerns had prevented and, according to the affidavit contained in your motion, could still prevent you from being available to deal with the case. Given this particular sets of circumstances, I feel that it would be in the best interest of all concerned, before a Legal Service Contract can be signed, if you underwent a medical examination. My intention would be that such an examination would be carried out by a doctor approved by the Special Court, covering the same elements as the Special Court staff pre-hiring medical exams. The cost of the examination would be borne by the Defence Office, but from a budget other than that for the defence of Mr. Brima.

Turning to another issue, article 14 (C) of the Directive states that the representation of more than one accused requires the approval by the Presiding Judge of the appropriate Chamber of the Special Court, after an application has been made through the Principal Defender. Whilst the Defence Office recognises its limited role with regards to those Counsel being retained privately, as in the case of your representation of Mr. Taylor, your possible appointment, under a Legal Service Contract to represent Mr. Brima, is clearly an area of concern to the Principal Defender. As I have mentioned to you in the past, I believe that there is a possibility of a conflict of interest arising out of the fact that you are representing both Mr. Taylor and Mr. Brima. In addition, the fact that you are representing both an indigent accused, Mr. Brima, and a privately represented accused, Mr. Taylor, creates, in my opinion, severe practical difficulties in trying to determine those expenses which will be incurred on behalf of one or the other and, as a result, if such expenses should be paid under the legal assistance scheme. It follows that, unless you are able to adhere to the provision of article 14 of the Directive, my request is that you renounce your Power of Attorney pertaining to Mr. Taylor and the Republic of Liberia or decide not to enter into a Legal Service Contract in regards to Mr. Brima.

Finally, in relation to the Contract Specification, there is a specific requirement that each indigent accused be represented by a team of Counsel possessing expertise in Criminal Law (serious offences), International Criminal Law and Sierra Leonean Law. Again, we have discussed this issue in the past and it is my understanding that you have contacted at least two persons who could meet the requirement of expertise in International Criminal Law. It is also my understanding that your previous trip to Europe (June-July 2003) was partly authorised for that purpose. It has been a practice of the Defence Office to authorise such Counsel to travel to Freetown in order to meet with their potential client and discuss their participation in the Defence Team with the Principal Defender. In your particular circumstances, this has not been the case and I have yet to receive any confirmation from either Mr. Khan or Mrs. Fauveau-Ivanovic that either is willing and, particularly, available to join your Defence Team. Furthermore, neither of them have met Mr. Brima. It is therefore my position that, prior to signing a Legal Service Contract, I would expect Mr. Khan or Mrs Fauveau-Ivanovic to travel to Freetown, for that purpose, under the provision of a Travel Authorisation to be issued by myself.

I understand that my response may well raise several questions on your part and I stand ready to discuss these issues further.

Best regards,

I would therefore request that you present, to the Defence Office, your invoice for legal work done, to this day, under your Provisional Assignment. Payment of said invoice will be made in due course, once your invoice has been reviewed and approved.

As to your request for a meeting between the Registrar, Mr. Brima, you and myself, please note that the Registrar will only be back in Freetown on 4 January, while I will be on leave with my family from 18 December until 19 January. My absence from Freetown should not deter you from seeking a meeting with the Registrar, once he has returned.

I await your reply

Sir,

I hereby acknowledge having received your letter of 11 December 2003, in reply to my letter of the same day and earlier exchange of correspondences, in November 2003, this in the context of our discussions towards the signing of a Legal Service Contract, to provide for the legal representation of Mr. Brima before the Special Court for Sierra Leone.

I do not intend to respond to the insults, some of racial nature, nor to the unfounded accusations made against me or the threats you have proffered towards me but, as you requested, want to inform you of my decision concerning your appointment under a Legal Service Contract.

In no uncertain terms, and given your position, your responses to my requests and statement by yourself that this is your final position, I am not prepared to enter into a Legal Service Contract with you, this based on the following reasons:

- You are not willing to have the issue of your health status clarified and, therefore, I can not ensure that you will remain available to continue to represent Mr. Brima to the finality of the proceedings before the Special Court, this in accordance with Article 13 (A) of the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel. e
- You continue to refuse to follow the procedure indicated in Article 14 (C) of the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel, regarding representing more than one defendant before the Special Court. L

Given these facts, I hereby inform you that, in accordance with Article 16 (C) of the Directive on the Assignment of Counsel, I am withdrawing your Provisional Assignment to represent Mr. Brima under the Legal Assistance program of the Special Court.

Since Mr. Brima has the right to choose his own Counsel, he can decide to continue having you as his Counsel but, this will not be under the auspices of the Legal Assistance program provided by the Special Court. You will have to be retained privately.

The Office of the Prosecutor:

Ms. Elizabeth Ann Farr
Ms. Brenda Sue Thornton

Counsel for the Accused:

Mr. N. K. Loomu-Ojare

THE TRIBUNAL,

SITTING as Trial Chamber I of the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (the "Tribunal"), composed of Judge Laïty Kama as Presiding Judge, Judge Yakov Ostrovsky and Judge Lennart Aspegren;

WHEREAS, through numerous letters addressed to the President of the Tribunal, the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana is requesting that the counsel assigned to him by the Registrar on 10 March 1997, in the person of Mr. N. K. Loomu-Ojare of the Tanganyika Bar Association, be replaced on the grounds of having lost confidence in said counsel, and subsequently that the Registrar assign to him a particular counsel of his choice;

WHEREAS, on this last point, he cites the provisions of Article 20 (4) of the Statute of the Tribunal (the "Statute"), which supposedly entitles him, though indigent, to freely choose his counsel, and submits that the Registrar should never have imposed Mr. Loomu-Ojare on him;

WHEREAS it should be recalled that this is the second request made by the accused for replacement of counsel;

WHEREAS in fact, during a hearing on this matter on 4 March 1997, taking into account the crisis situation that had developed between the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana and his counsel at the time, Ms. Ghislaine Moïse-Bazie of the Côte d'Ivoire Bar Association, who had asked to be withdrawn from the case, the Tribunal considered that there existed, on that occasion, an exceptional case as a condition for the change of assigned counsel, as required by Article 19 (D) of the Directive on Assignment of Defence Counsel (the "Directive"), and, for that reason, decided to withdraw Ms. Moïse-Bazie and instructed the Registrar to immediately assign a new counsel to the accused;

WHEREAS it was therefore at the instruction of the Tribunal that the Registrar assigned Mr. N. K. Loomu-Ojare to replace Ms. Moïse-Bazie;

WHEREAS it is, however, worth pointing out that it was at a time when the accused was fearing his imminent arrest by the Côte d'Ivoire authorities, at the request of the Prosecutor of the Tribunal, that he instructed Ms. Moïse-Bazie, to represent him at his own expense, particularly during his detention in Côte d'Ivoire, Ms. Moïse-Bazie having even declared that she had received the sum of CFA 500,000 in legal fees from the accused and his family;

WHEREAS it was later that Ms. Moïse-Bazie requested that her name be placed on the Registrar's list of counsel eligible for assignment and that request was granted;

WHEREAS it would therefore be inaccurate to state that the accused Mr. Gérard Ntakirutimana had chosen his counsel from the list previously established by the Registrar, since, for practical reasons, the Registrar had limited himself to confirming that Ms. Moïse-Bazie had been instructed by the accused, who in the meantime had declared himself to be indigent;

1754

TAKING INTO ACCOUNT the rights of the accused, as set forth in Article 14(3)(d) of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (the "Covenant"), in Article 20(4)(d) of the Statute, in Article 7(1)(c) of the African Charter on Human and People's Rights (the "African Charter") and in Article 6(3)(c) of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (the "European Convention");

AFTER HAVING DELIBERATED,

WHEREAS the Tribunal considers that the correspondence and oral arguments of the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana raise two important issues:

- firstly, the existence of an exceptional case as a condition for the replacement of counsel, upon the decision of a Chamber, at the request of an accused; and
- secondly, consequences of indigence in relation to the choice of counsel.

A. On the replacement of Mr. Loomu-Ojare upon the decision of the Chamber

WHEREAS, in accordance with Article 19 (D) of the Directive, only in exceptional cases may the assigned counsel be replaced, upon a decision by a Chamber, at the request of the accused;

WHEREAS, in support of his request for the replacement of his current counsel, the accused essentially claimed, at the hearing convened on 8 May 1997 to that end, that he no longer had confidence in said counsel, solely on the ground that Mr. Loomu-Ojare was a Tanzanian national and that the United Republic of Tanzania maintained special ties with the present Government of the Republic of Rwanda;

WHEREAS, while objecting to the allegations made by the accused, Mr. Loomu-Ojare asserted, at the same hearing, that, as a lawyer and in accordance with the professional code of ethics of his Bar, he was totally independent of the Tanzanian Government, and was committed to the defence of Gérard Ntakirutimana;

WHEREAS with regard to Mr. Loomu-Ojare, the Tribunal has had occasion to confirm for itself that he has always conscientiously striven to provide effective legal representation for the accused;

WHEREAS, consequently, the Tribunal is not far from believing that the accused's request for change of counsel is motivated solely by his desire to be assigned a particular counsel, and not because of any loss of confidence vis-à-vis Mr. Loomu-Ojare;

WHEREAS an exceptional case, as required by Article 19 of the Directive, to permit a change of counsel therefore does not exist, and thence the accused's request should not be granted;

B. Consequences of indigence in relation to the choice of counsel

WHEREAS, at the above-mentioned hearing of 8 May 1997, the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana, on the basis of the provisions of Article 20(4) of the Statute, submitted that any accused, even if indigent, has the right to choose his own counsel and cannot have one imposed upon him, as the Registrar did when he assigned Mr. Loomu-Ojare to him without his prior accord;

WHEREAS Article 20(4) of the Statute, which does, actually, simply reiterate Article 14 of the Covenant, stipulates:

“In the determination of any charge against the accused pursuant to the present Statute, the accused shall be entitled to the following minimum guarantees, in full equality:

(b) To have adequate time and facilities for the preparation of his or her defence and to communicate with counsel of his or her own choosing;

(d) To be tried in his or her presence, and to defend himself or herself in person or through legal assistance of his or her own choosing; to be informed, if he or she does not have legal assistance, of this right; and to have legal assistance assigned to him or her, in any case where the interests of justice so require, and without payment by him or her in any such case if he or she does not have sufficient means to pay for it;

WHEREAS it seems that the formula used for the indigent accused, which is the right “to have legal assistance assigned to [him], ... , and without payment by [him] in any such case if [he] does not have sufficient means to pay for it”, involves a party other than the accused in the choice of assigned Defence counsel;

WHEREAS, according to Rule 45 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence (the “Rules”) and Article 13 of the Directive, it is the Registrar who is vested with such power;

WHEREAS, this being the case, the question is whether, in so doing, the Registrar is necessarily bound to consider the choice made by the indigent accused;

WHEREAS, on this question, the Tribunal points out that Article 20(4) of the Statute outlines two situations:

- the first situation requires that, where the accused has the means to pay for counsel, the accused may choose whomever he or she wishes;
- the second situation is precisely that of the accused Gerard Ntakirutimana who declared himself to be indigent and was so recognized by the Registrar; in this case, it is for the Registrar to assign him counsel who will be remunerated from the funds allocated by the Tribunal for this purpose;

WHEREAS the Registrar shall assign him a counsel whose name is on the list of counsel eligible for assignment, as drawn up by his office, pursuant to Rule 45 of the Rules and Article 13 of the Directive;

WHEREAS this means that the Registrar cannot be expected to fulfill another obligation, that would be to always follow the wishes of the indigent accused with regard to the choice of counsel, furthermore, while in the present case, the accused Gerard Ntakirutimana had requested, when the Tribunal heard his request on 8 May 1997, that the Registrar assign him a particular counsel whose name was not even on the Registrar’s list;

WHEREAS the Tribunal reads Article 20(4) in the same manner as the Human Rights Committee, the supervisory and interpretation body of the Covenant, established in accordance with Article 28, when it reads Article 14(3)(d) of the said Covenant;

WHEREAS, indeed, in several of its findings, the Human Rights Committee has had to reiterate that the said Article 14 does not entitle the accused to choose Defence counsel assigned to him without payment by him;

WHEREAS, thus, in the cases Little v. Jamaica, [Communication No. 330/1988 UN Doc. CCPR/C/50/D330/1988 (1994)] and Osbourne Wright and Eric Harvey v. Jamaica [Communication No. 459/1991, UN Doc. CCPR/C/55/D/459/1991 (1995)] the Human Rights Committee declared, on the one hand, that Article 14(3)(d) of the Covenant did not entitle the accused to choose counsel provided to him or her without payment by him or her and, on the other, that the counsel must ensure the effective representation of the accused in the interests of justice;

WHEREAS, furthermore, the European Commission on Human Rights also arrived at such an interpretation and adopted a similar position with regard to Article 6(3)(c) of the European Convention, by declaring, in the case F. v. Swiss Confederation (Decision of 9 May 1989, Application No. 12152/86) that Article 6(3)(c) of the European Convention did not guarantee the accused the right to choose the assigned counsel, nor even the right to be consulted on this matter by the court, which must nevertheless ensure that the Defence of the accused is effective;

WHEREAS the European Court of Human Rights, on its part, in the case Croissant v. Germany [62/1997/314/385 (1992)] confirmed the right of an accused to be defended by a counsel of his or her own choosing, while emphasizing that certain limitations apply where free legal representation is concerned; the right of an accused to be defended by counsel of his or her own choosing can therefore not be considered per se to be absolute; and while affirming that national courts must certainly take into account the preferences of the accused, such preferences may not be followed when there are relevant and sufficient grounds for maintaining that it was necessary in the interests of justice;

WHEREAS, the principle having thus been set out that the final decision for the assignment of counsel and of the choice of such counsel rests with the Registrar, the Tribunal submits nonetheless that, mindful to ensure that the indigent accused receives the most efficient defence possible in the context of a fair trial, and convinced of the importance to adopt a progressive practice in this area, an indigent accused should be offered the possibility of designating the counsel of his or her choice from the list drawn up by the Registrar for this purpose, pursuant to Rule 47 of the Rules and Article 13 of the Directive, the Registrar having to take into consideration the wishes of the accused, unless the Registrar has reasonable and valid grounds not to grant the request of the accused.

FOR THESE REASONS

THE TRIBUNAL, by two votes to one,

DECLARES that, in this case, no exceptional case exists to justify the replacement of Mr. N. K. Loomu-Ojare, as requested by the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana;

DECIDES, consequently, not to grant the request made by the accused Gérard Ntakirutimana for Mr. Loomu-Ojare to be replaced;

DECLARES that Article 20(4) of the Statute cannot be interpreted as giving the indigent accused the absolute right to be assigned the legal representation of his or her choice;

DECLARES, nonetheless that, mindful to ensure that the indigent accused receives the most efficient defence possible in the context of a fair trial, and convinced of the importance to adopt a progressive practice in this area, an indigent accused should be offered the possibility of designating the counsel of his or her choice from the list drawn up by the Registrar for this purpose, the Registrar having to take into consideration the wishes of the accused, unless the Registrar has reasonable and valid grounds not to grant the request of the accused.

TRIAL CHAMBERS

The Prosecutor v. Dusko Knezevic- Case No. IT-95-4-PT, IT-95-8/1-PT

"Decision on Accused's Request for Review of Registrar's Decision as to Assignment of Counsel"

• 6 September 2002

The right to a counsel of the accused's own choosing - The power of a Trial Chamber to review a Registrar's decision on assignment of counsel - Article 13(B) of the Directive on Assignment of Counsel - Rule 54 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence.

The power of a Trial Chamber to review a Registrar's decision on assignment of counsel: the power of a Trial Chamber to review a decision on assignment of counsel should only be used in exceptional cases. In the exercise of its power under Rule 54 to issue such orders as may be necessary for the conduct of the trial, the Trial Chamber is empowered to review the decision of the Registrar.

Procedural Background

· On 10 June 2002, the Registrar rejected the request of Dusko Knezevic ("the Accused") for the assignment of Mr. Miodrag Deretic. The Registrar's decision was based on the fact that as of 21 August 2001, Mr. Deretic was assigned as co-counsel to Mr. Zoran Zigic who was formerly charged in the same indictment as the Accused with crimes in the same location. The Registrar assigned Mr. Thomas Moran as Defence counsel to the Accused.

· On 24 June 2002, the Accused challenged the Decision of the Registrar of 10 June 2002 and requested that Mr. Drasko Zec be assigned as his counsel. The Registrar rejected this request on the ground that Mr. Zec and Mr. Deretic shared the same law office in Prijedor and that the professional relationship between both attorneys was not sufficiently clear, so as to ensure that a potential conflict of interest would not occur.

The Decision

The Trial Chamber denied the Application of the accused Knezevic challenging the decision by the Registrar of 10 June 2002.

The Reasoning

The right to a counsel of the accused's own choosing

The Trial Chamber affirmed that contrary to the submission of the Accused and Mr. Zec, "the right of indigent accused to counsel of his own choosing is not without limits" and that the decision for the assignment of counsel rests with the Registrar. This reaffirms the findings of the Ntakirutimana Decision,<sup>1</sup> whereby, unless it has reasonable and valid grounds not to grant the request, the Registrar must take the wishes of the accused into account.

The Trial Chamber recalled that the Registrar has the primary responsibility for matters relating to qualification, appointment or assignment of counsel.<sup>2</sup>

The power of a Trial Chamber to review a Registrar's decision on assignment of counsel

Considering that matters relating to the assignment of counsel for an accused affect the conduct of a trial and that the Chamber has a statutory obligation to ensure the fair and expeditious conduct of proceedings with full respect for the rights of the accused, the Trial Chamber held that the body responsible for the assignment of counsel is the Registrar and therefore that the "power" of a Trial Chamber to review a decision to assign a counsel "should only be used in exceptional cases".<sup>3</sup>

The Trial Chamber found that the Registrar's decision not to appoint Mr. Zec as counsel to the Accused was justified. It considered that Mr. Zec's proposal (overheard in a non-privileged telephone conversation) that the Accused should appoint him as counsel in order to enable Mr. Deretic to act alongside him constituted improper conduct and would in effect "nullify the Registrar's decision not to appoint Mr. Deretic".

1. Ntakirutimana, ICTR-96-10-T, ICTR-96-17-T, Decision on the Motions of the Accused for Replacement of Assigned Counsel/Corr., 11 June 1997.

2. Hadzihasanovic, IT-01-47-PT, Decision on Prosecution's Motion for Review of the Decision of the Registrar to Assign Mr. Rodney Dixon as Co-Counsel to the Accused Kubura, 26 March 2002, Judicial Supplement No. 31 bis.

3. In fact, "on further reflection", the Trial Chamber affirmed that "in the exercise of its power under Rule 54 to issue such orders as may be necessary for the conduct of the trial, the Trial Chamber is empowered to review the decision of the Registrar".

NOTING the President's "Decision on Review, in Accordance with Article 19(E) of the Directive on Assignment of Defence Counsel", filed on 4 June 2001;

HAVING HEARD the Parties on 15 June 2001;

NOTING that co-Accused Nyiramasuhuko and her Counsel were present during the said hearing;

CONSIDERING the Statute of the Tribunal (the "Statute") and the Rules of Procedure and Evidence (the "Rules"), specifically Articles 19 and 20 of the Statute and Rules 73, 54 and 45(F) of the Rules;

SUBMISSIONS OF THE PARTIES

Accused Ntahobali

1. Ntahobali alleges that since his assignment as Lead Counsel on 7 February 2000, Saint Léger has shown lack of interest and lack of professionalism, and that, despite several warnings, his conduct has not improved and consequently, Ntahobali has definitely lost confidence in his Counsel and co-Counsel in January 2001.

2. The reasons for Ntahobali's withdrawal request with respect to both Counsel are, inter alia, the following:

2.1. Counsel have failed to hold consultations with him. For instance, they should not have filed the Motions for the suppression of custodial statements and for a separate trial. Ntahobali objected to the procedure followed in respect of the drafting and the filing of these Motions. Further, Ntahobali alleges that his Counsel have bluntly copied portions of Motions submitted by his co-Accused Nyiramasuhuko to support the claim of their lack of professionalism;

2.2. Counsel did not discuss with him the content of these Motions whereas the Accused does not have an enabling command of English, language in which these Motions were drafted. With regards co-Counsel Bailey, Ntahobali alleges that despite the latter's claim to have a good working knowledge of French, Ntahobali has not been able to communicate with him in the said language and adds that Counsel Bailey refused to visit him at the detention centre;

2.3. Counsel fired the Defence assistant Isabelle Bouchard, who was experienced in his case, without reason and without prior consultation with him;

2.4. Counsel Saint Léger and Bailey have endangered the existing co-operation between his Defence and that of his mother and co-Accused Pauline Nyiramasuhuko, and they have allegedly threatened him after a hearing;

2.5. Ntahobali stated that he had personally withdrawn the Counsel's assignment and had not authorised them to act on his behalf anymore. Rather, since a letter dated 24 April 2001, Ntahobali has expressed his willingness to conduct his own defence, pursuant to his statutory right to do so, pending assignment of new counsel of his choice from the Registry's list of Counsel, with the formal undertaking that he shall not request an adjournment of the proceedings pending assignment of new counsel;

2.6. Finally, during the hearing of 15 June 2001, Ntahobali dismissed the Counsel's submissions that there had been some communication between them since the opening of his trial and further alleged that co-Counsel Bailey had refused to hand over to him two Prosecution videotapes for inspection.

Response by Counsel

3. Counsel for Ntahobali replied that they "have at all times acted professionally, have at no time created conflict with their client, nor have they jeopardized their client's rights".

4. They added that "recently there has been some communication established with the Accused in reviewing exhibit videotapes."

Response by the Prosecutor

5. The Prosecutor submits that both the Registrar and the President made the correct decision in denying the Accused's requests.

6. The Prosecutor replies that the Accused's request should be dismissed on the grounds, inter alia, that the Accused does not have the right to counsel of his choice as stated in the Appeals Judgement rendered on 1 June 2001 in the Prosecutor v. Akayesu, (Case No. ICTR- 96-4-A) and that the Accused has not demonstrated that the problems of communications existing between him and his Counsel amounted to exceptional circumstances justifying the removal of his Counsel.

7. Further, the Prosecutor submits that the Accused has not made a complete or categorical request to act for himself, and seemed to have conditioned it to the right to have a counsel of his choice and that his insistence on having other counsel appointed each time he faces divergences with the assigned counsel is an indication that the Accused sees the need for counsel to assist him.

8. Finally, the Prosecutor raises an objection, pursuant to Common Law principles, as to the direct cross-examination of victims of rape testifying against the Accused by the latter, and would then prefer that the questions be put in writing and read out either by the Trial Chamber or by the Registry if he was to represent himself.

HAVING DELIBERATED

9. As a preliminary matter, the Chamber notes that, despite the Decisions rendered by the Registrar and the President on the Accused's request for withdrawal of Counsel, since the commencement of his Trial on 11 June 2001, Ntahobali has orally and in writing maintained his application for withdrawal of his Counsel and co-Counsel on the basis that he no longer has confidence in their competence to represent him and that there has been a complete breakdown of communication between them.

10. The Chamber has then considered the President's Decision on Review, dated 4 June 2001 in which the President declared herself unable "to make a factual determination of the allegations made by the Accused [...] This is a matter best left for consideration by the Trial Chamber."

11. The Chamber recalls that Rule 45 (H) of the Rules states that: "under exceptional circumstances, at the request of the suspect or accused or his counsel, the Chamber may instruct the Registrar to replace an assigned counsel, upon good cause being shown and after having been satisfied that the request is not designed to delay the proceedings."

12. The Chamber should therefore firstly be satisfied that exceptional circumstances exist and good cause is shown warranting withdrawal of counsel, and secondly, that the request is not deigned to delay the proceedings, particularly at this stage of the proceedings.

Exceptional circumstances and showing of good cause

13. The Chamber notes the relevant case-law of this Tribunal and of the International Criminal Tribunal for ex-Yugoslavia (ICTY), and concurs with the findings of the "Decision on the Request by the Accused for Change of Assigned Counsel" rendered on 26 June 1997, (Case No. ICTR-96-7-T, The Prosecutor v. Bagosora) that if "there was no meaningful communication between the accused and his counsel", whereas "an accused person needs constant contact with his counsel", the Chamber considered that "there no longer existed a relationship of trust between the accused and the assigned counsel", the "lack of confidence by the accused in his Counsel to be an exceptional circumstance warranting the replacement of assigned counsel within the ambit of Article 19 (d) of the directive". Further, the Chamber takes note of the reasoning retained by the ICTY Trial Chamber seized of the 'Celebici' case, in the "Decision on request by Accused Mucic for assignment of new counsel" dated 24 June 1996, whereby "though the overriding interest of the administration of justice means that [an Accused] should not be permitted to seek withdrawal of his assigned counsel without establishing good cause", the occurrence of a complete breakdown of communication between the Accused and his Counsel which could "adversely affect the rights of the Accused" (See Decision of 24 June 1996) constitutes exceptional circumstances required for the replacement of assigned counsel provided for in Article 19(d) of the Directive.

14. In the circumstances of this case, the Chamber is of the view that the breakdown in communication and trust between the Accused and his Defence team, a situation which the Chamber has even observed in Court on several occasions since the start of the trial of the Accused constitutes exceptional circumstances within the ambit of Rule 45 (H) of the Rules. In making this finding, the Chamber has considered the necessity for a proper relationship of communication and trust to be established between the Accused and his defence team to ensure an effective defence and for smooth proceedings in relation to the Trial as a whole.

15. The Chamber notes however that, as the Defence Counsel expressed the need to preserve the confidentiality of their client's affairs, the underlying reasons for the breakdown of trust and confidence remain unknown to the Chamber which however cannot but notice the severe absence of a good working relationship.

16. The Chamber strongly emphasises that it has not been proven that the Accused's Counsel have done anything to the prejudice of the Accused, notably by associating themselves with concerns raised by other accused. Rather than proving such allegations, it seems that the Accused either inadvertently or deliberately rendered his Counsel's tasks difficult, while the latter did not appear to be in a position to explain why the Accused was acting in such a manner in view of their duty, as submitted to the Chamber during the hearing to maintain professional confidentiality and not divulge what could be detrimental to the interest of the Accused

Undue delay

17. Before ordering replacement of Counsel, the Chamber must also be satisfied that the withdrawal of Counsel in those exceptional circumstances will not pervert the course of justice by unduly delaying the proceedings in light of the on-going Trial of the Accused and of five Accused jointly tried since 12 June 2001.

18. The Chamber takes note of the fact that Ntahobali has firmly reiterated during the hearing that, if his assigned counsel were to be withdrawn, he is unambiguously willing to exercise his right to represent himself pursuant to Articles 20 and 20 (4)(d) of the Statute and Rule 45 (F) of the Rules pending the assignment of new counsel of his choice from the list of Counsel provided for by the Registry, so as to not delay the proceedings.

19. Thus, being satisfied that withdrawal of the Accused's Counsel is not designed to delay the proceedings since the Accused has elected to exercise his right, pursuant to Rule 45 (F) and Article 20 of the Statute, to conduct his own defence pending assignment of new Counsel, the Chamber grants the Accused's request.

20. Nonetheless, the Chamber has duly considered the seriousness of the charges pending against the Accused who is currently being tried and has taken note of the Prosecution's arguments as to the Accused directly cross-examining witnesses. In light of these factors, and by virtue of its inherent powers to control its own proceedings, the Chamber decides proprio motu that it is in the interest of justice that a Duty Counsel be immediately appointed so as to ensure that the Accused is assisted in the conduct of his defence pursuant to Rule 44bis (D) of the Rules.

Clarification on the status and duties of Counsel

21. Having considered the issues at stake, the Chamber is bound to find that the Accused was mistaken about the role and status of his Counsel in the administration of justice which has created a difficult situation.

22. Therefore, the Chamber wishes to take this opportunity to clarify for the future the nature of the Counsel-Accused relationship and recalls that in the exercise of his professional judgement, Counsel is independent of the Accused, even if Counsel is expected to maintain a proper Counsel-Client relationship. The Trial Chamber has to be assured that a Counsel properly conducts an accused's defence and protects the latter's lawful interest during trial, but also has to verify that the accused does not abuse this right.

23. As a matter of principle, the Chamber finds that an accused is mistaken when saying that counsel must consult with him, whereas there are matters of professional judgement for which Counsel alone is liable. While Counsel should take full instructions about facts surrounding the case, this does not imply that Counsel have to consult with the accused whenever any step in his defence is taken by the Counsel. Nevertheless, Counsel have to keep the Accused informed of the steps taken to protect his interests and provide the Accused with a reasoned explanation as to why they took such steps.

24. Finally, in view of the fact that (1) Accused Ntahobali had already requested the withdrawal of the previous assigned Counsel in February 2000, (2) that the Chamber did not find that Counsel for Ntahobali were at fault but (3) rather, acted in a professional manner and were willing to continue to conduct the Accused's Defence, the Chamber formally invites Accused Ntahobali to endeavour in the future to co-operate with the Registry and with replacement Counsel so as not to affect the due course of the administration of justice and to ensure smooth proceedings.

25. Having made these clarifications, the Trial Chamber decides that it will not tolerate such behaviour in the future.

THE TRIBUNAL HEREBY

I. Directs the Registry to withdraw immediately the assignment of Counsel Saint Léger and co-Counsel Bailey.

II. Instructs the Registry that Accused Ntahobali be immediately provided with a list of potential counsel from which to choose, and that, as soon as possible from the date of this decision, the Accused lodges a written request for Counsel with the Registry by means of an appropriate form pursuant to Article 5 of the Directive indicating three names of counsel from the list.

III. Instructs the Registry, in accordance with Article 19(D) of the Directive, to proceed with the assignment of new Counsel without delay.

IV. Once Lead counsel is appointed, instructs the latter to choose immediately a co-Counsel from the list provided by the Registry.

V. Decides that Counsel for Ntahobali will immediately assist the Accused and shall conduct its Defence without delay and will conform to the dates set for Trial decided by the Tribunal so as to not delay the proceedings.

VI. Pending the replacement of Counsel and in the interest of a proper administration of justice, instructs the Registry to appoint a Duty Counsel with immediate effect pursuant to Rule 44*bis* of the Rules to assist the Accused in the conduct of his defence pending replacement of Counsel.

VII. Directs the Registry, pursuant to Article 20(A) and 20(B) of the Directive to ensure that Counsel remits immediately to the Duty Counsel all the original documents in the file pending assignment of new Counsel.

NOTING the written request (the "Request") of Esad Landzo ("the accused") for the withdrawal of the lead counsel for his defence, Mr. Mustafa Brackovic, dated 9 April 1997 on the grounds of conflicts of interest;

CONSIDERING that the accused has a right, guaranteed by Article 21(4)(d) of the Statute of the International Tribunal, to defend himself in person or through legal assistance of his choosing;

CONSIDERING, that it is a generally recognised principle of law that the above right is not without qualification in situations where an accused person is indigent and unable to fund his legal representation;

CONSIDERING that the defence of the accused is funded by the International Tribunal and that the accused, cannot, therefore, withdraw lead counsel without showing good cause:

CONSIDERING that a genuine conflict of interest will constitute such good cause;

CONSIDERING HOWEVER that the events cited by the accused in the Request do not support a conclusion that there is a conflict of interest between the accused and Mr. Brackovic;

CONSIDERING FURTHER that the Trial Chamber has a duty under Article 20(1) of the Statute of the International Tribunal to ensure that trials are fair and expeditious;

CONSIDERING FURTHER that the Trial Chamber has not found any dereliction of duty as counsel on the part of Mr. Brackovic;

CONSIDERING FURTHER that the Trial Chamber has not found any substance in the assertion of the accused that his choice of Mr Brackovic as counsel was not made by his own free will;

CONSIDERING FURTHER that the Trial Chamber will be failing in its said duty if it grants the request for the reasons cited;

FOR THESE REASONS AND TAKING INTO ACCOUNT the provisions of Article 21 of the Statute of the International Tribunal, Rule 45 of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence and Article 20(A) of the Directive on Assignment of Defence Counsel,
