INTRODUCTION

1. By its Order Concerning the Preparation and Presentation of the Defence Case, dated 21 October 2005 (“the 21 October Order”), Trial Chamber 1 ordered the Defence teams in the ongoing Trial to file certain materials not later than 17 November 2005, with projections of a Status Conference to be held on 27 October 2005, a Pre-defence Conference to be held on the 11 of January 2006, and of the Defence case to commence on the 17 January 2006. The said Status Conference was duly held as projected on 27 October 2005.
2. The materials which the Chamber ordered the Defence to file on or before the 17 November 2005 as aforesaid, were as follows:
 - a). i). the name of each witness;
ii) a summary of their respective testimony;
iii) the points of the indictment to which each witness will testify;
iv) the estimated length of time for each witness to testify
v) an indication of whether the witness will testify in person or pursuant to Rule 92bis of the Rules;
 - b). A list of expert witnesses, whose names must appear on the list of witnesses referred to above, with a brief description of the nature of their evidence and a preliminary indication of when their reports will be ready and its availability to the Prosecution.
 - c). A list of exhibits the Defence intends to offer in its case, containing a brief description of their respective nature and contents, and stating where possible whether or not the Prosecution has any objection as to their authenticity.
 - d). A chart which indicates, for each paragraph in the indictment, the testimonial evidence and documentary evidence upon which the Defence will rely to defend the Accused against the allegations contained therein;
3. Notwithstanding certain logistical, field and other constraints encountered by the Norman Defence Team in its effort to comply with the aforesaid 21 October Order, the team was able to comply to an appreciable extent with the said order by 17 November 2005. It chose to do so by what it considered a not improbable mode of compliance in the circumstances of a joint trial in which all three accused persons are facing a single consolidated indictment, and a mode which did not seem expressly precluded or excluded by the Rules of Procedure and Evidence. That mode was to file jointly with the other CDF defence teams on the 17 November 2005 the “Joint Defence Materials Filed Pursuant to 21 October 2005 Order of Trial Chamber 1 and Request for Partial Modifications Thereof” (“Joint Defence Materials”).
4. Thereafter, the Chamber issued and filed “Scheduling Order for Status Conference” dated 18 November 2005 by which it ordered a further Status Conference to be held on 23 November 2005, which was ultimately rescheduled for and held on 25 November 2005, with the Prosecution having on the orders of the Chamber filed on 23 November 2005 the “Prosecution Submissions on the Joint Defence Materials” aforesaid.

- 5. At the Status Conference held on 25 November 2005, the Defence and Prosecution alike made various representations to the Chamber, with the Norman Defence team emphasising mainly the constraints it was encountering in its efforts to comply with the 21 October 2005 Order aforesaid. In the result, the Chamber concluded that each of the Defence Teams had in effect failed so far to comply with the 21 October Order; and it then issued and filed on the 28 November 2005 its “Consequential Order for Compliance with the Order Concerning the Preparation and Presentation of the Defence Case”. The said Consequential Order of 28 November 2005, among other Orders, effectively extended the date for each Defence team complying separately and individually with the various elements of the 21 October Order to “no later than the 5th of December 2005 at 4.00pm”, together with a deadline of 30 November 2005 for any protective measures application in respect of any witnesses intended to be called by the Norman and Fofana Teams. The said Consequential Order also stipulates that should any team seek to apply for protective measures after 30 November 2005 or to make additions to its lists of witnesses and exhibits after 5 November 2005, in each case “it may be permitted to do so only upon good cause being shown”, a stipulation presumably applying to the various compliance elements in the said consequential Order.

NORMAN TEAM’S CONSTRAINTS

- 6. Because of the generally higher profile of Norman in both the National political scheme and the CDF affairs, the Norman Defence Team realised that so many more witnesses would be required for his defence. Some of the required witnesses reside in countries outside Sierra Leone, like Nigeria, the UK, and the US. Even the intended witnesses residing or believed to be residing in Sierra Leone, were in far-flung areas which in some cases are in terrain difficult of access or were discovered to be prone to moving from one town, chiefdom or district to another even between visits by the Defence Team without leaving effective pointers behind. Furthermore, apart from initial fears to come forward as potential witnesses because of alleged intimidation by local authorities and the Special Court Outreach team, the insistence of several Kamajors of agreeing to be witnesses only after direct contact with or after the approval of the detained Mr Norman (sometimes even insisting on prior face to face contact with Norman) posed time-consuming constraints for the Norman Team.
- 7. Logistical constraints were also very severe indeed. With only one vehicle made available to the team on its visits up-country for three or four days at a time, it was often impossible to access more than one or two towns at a time; and with extremely limited funding throughout the exercise, it was not easy getting potential witnesses to travel from outlying towns and villages to meet with the investigators and the defence teams at centres visited by the team during particular visits. Even where initial contacts were made with certain potential witnesses, in some cases it was not possible to access them on the follow-up visits, especially as some of them had to travel fairly long distances to meet with the team, with poor transport and communications facilities in various areas having greatly reduced the chances of prior contact or information.

- 8. These constraints were aggravated by the effects of the stance that had been taken by the First Accused in relation to the trial. It will be recalled that Norman had withdrawn his personal presence at the trial proceedings on the grounds that he had not been served personally with the consolidated indictment nor formally arraigned upon it to enable him to take his plea thereon. Be that as it may, the practical effect on the witness tracing exercise of his Defence Team was that he was often reluctant to cooperate with them on the ground that he would not know as to what charges, incidents or allegations he would need witnesses to testify to and so he would not know whether to call or whom to call as witnesses. This greatly slowed down the identification of potential witnesses and the taking down of their respective testimony statements. The current posture of the First Accused in this regard accounts for the presentation of his availability to testify in person in the manner it appears in the list of witnesses (Annex A) below

- 9. As a result of these various constraints, certain potential witnesses may still remain to be identified and interviewed even as at now and possible exhibits to be unearthed. For a fair and full defence of the First Accused, the witness and exhibit tracing exercise will thus have to continue in the mean time and may overlap with the early stages of the Defence case after it shall have opened on 17 January 2006. By the same token, and considering the state of witness statements and exhibits at the present moment, it has regrettably not been practicable in all the circumstances to include among the annexes hereto a comprehensive chart, as required by the 21 October and 28 November 2005 Orders of the Chamber “which indicates, for each paragraph in the indictment, the testimonial evidence and documentary evidence upon which the defence will rely to defend the Accused against the allegations contained therein” in respect of the First Accused. Appropriate leave and permission is to be sought from the Chamber for a supplemental filing of the relevant information and document not later than 14th December 2005. Otherwise, the Annexes submitted below are hereby filed in compliance with the Chamber’s aforesaid Orders of 21 October 2005 and 28 November 2005.

COMPLIANCE WITH THE ORDERS

10. The Defence for the First Accused has attached a witness list (Annex A) containing the names of witnesses that could provide relevant information on particular incidents alleged by the Prosecution in the indictment. This witness list is subject to amendment by the Norman Defence Team in accordance with the Rules of Procedure and Evidence.
11. The Defence of the First Accused has also attached an exhibit list (Annex B) containing a list of documents the defence intends to rely on to prove its case, with a brief description of their respective nature and contents. The Defence might add any exhibit to this list depending on when it might unearth certain documents.
12. The First Accused intends to testify in his own Defence pursuant to Rule 85 (C) of the Rules.

Done this 5th Day of December 2005.
